

In Closing

I hope my book brought you value and a different point of view. It was a joy to relive my past and hopefully you enjoyed the stories. I believe books are to be shared, so please pass this one on to a young person with a gleam in his or her eyes. Don't be scared of your future because you can't see a clear path. Enjoy the journey! Start the journey right now!

Recommended Authors

Robert Kiyosaki, All his Rich Dad Poor Dad series

Zig Ziglar, See you at the Top

Tim Ferriss, 4 Hour Work Week

Grant Cardone, The 10X Rule

Barbara Corcoran, Shark Tales

Darren Hardy, The Compound Effect

Richard Fenton, Go For No

OG Mandino, The Greatest Salesman in the World

Tony Robbins, Unlimited Power

Dale Carnegie, How to Win Friends and Influence People

Napoleon Hill, Think and Grow Rich

Norman Vincent Peale, The Power of Positive Thinking

Cover artwork by Byron Casebier

Special Thanks to Clay Conn for enduring the reading of the first rough draft and suggesting changes. Thank you, Mark Okeefe for taking the next stab, and because he knew many of the people in this book, he really helped fine tune the book. David Seden and Ayesha Imtiaz also helped clean up the grammatical mistakes. Then came the Young Guns! It is extremely important to make this book relatable to young people. Chris Kunz read, gave his thoughts, and published this book online on lulu.com. At the same time, I wanted another 18-year-old Jordan Okeefe to take a crack at cleaning up the book, with his entrepreneurial zeal! Then, 16 year-old Evan Russo read and gave great input. Final read was by Jeremy Northcutt and Jim Zadeh. Thank you all for helping me achieve my goal of giving back with my book! If my book brought you more value than you paid for, and you would like to give back, any and all donations are welcome at:

Community Storehouse Food Pantry, 12073 Katy Rd. Keller, TX 76244.

817-741-0447

Donate online at:

www.communitystorehouse.org